THE METHODIST TRAINING SCHOOL FOR CHRISTIAN WORKERS

If you want to learn—how to preach,

how to teach,
how to conduct congregational music, how to do church work with hand and
heart and brain,
how to make others to see the Christ of the Bible as the greatest living reality—then you should at least read the catalog of the Methodist Training School.

For if you ever once understand the methods and aim and spirit of this school, you will become eager to take the courses it offers.

Special courses are given to men who are candidates for the ministry, for foreign missions, for city missions, for institutional church work and for training as church musicians.

Other courses are provided for women who desire to become deaconesses, city missionaries, foreign missionaries, pastors' assistants, Bible readers, Sunday-school teachers, church musicians and trained nurses.

If you really want training to serve Christ, rejoice at the difficulties that seem to hinder your coming, for where there is a will, God stands ready to open the way.

Memoirs

William E. Allen

BY J. C. REED

WILLIAM EDWARD ALLEN, son of Thomas W. G. and Emerline Allen, was born September 30, 1835, in Suffolk, Va., and died at Wakefield, Va., March 13, 1908.

Of his early life and conversion we have this account from his own pen: "The first twenty years of my life were spent in my native town and county adjacent. During a large part of this time my social surroundings gave me decided religious advantages. I cannot recollect the period in my history when my feelings and convictions did not contribute a strong current that bore me in the direction of the Cross. The prayers, counsel and life of a consecrated mother added largely to the current of influences that led me to Jesus. Her precious memory, therefore, lingers still about me, sweeter than the odors emitted by the flowers of spring. Finally, under the preaching of Rev. Thomas Crowder, I concluded fully to yield to the claims of the Gospel, and in my fourteenth year found peace in believing."

Three years after his conversion, in 1851, he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in Suffolk, Va. Soon after joining the Church, he felt called of God to the work of the ministry.

In November, 1858, he was licensed to preach by the fourth Quarterly Conference of Gatesville Circuit, North Carolina. The following year he was employed by the presiding elder, Rev. W. H. Christian, and sent to the Mecklenburg Circuit.

In 1859 he was received on trial into the Virginia Annual Conference, and appointed as junior preacher to Prince Edward Circuit with Rev. D. J. Slaughter. For the year 1860-'61 he was sent to the Chesterfield Circuit, and served thereafter during his long and fruitful ministry the following charges: Northampton, N. C., Bertie, N. C., Southampton, Second Street, Portsmouth, Surry, Isle of Wight, South Norfolk, Chuckatuck, West Hanover, Heathsville, Lunenburg, Ettrick, Greenesville, Amherst, Newsoms, Fox Hill, Wakefield, Whaleyville and Somerton, Windsor, Boykins. Several of these charges he served a second time.

At the session of the Conference held in Charlottesville November, 1903, he asked for and was given the superannuated relation. He then retired to his home in Wakefield, Va., where, according to his strength and opportunity, he labored for the Master until called to his reward.

Brother Allen was married three times—to Miss Pattie L. Gregory, of Edenton, N. C., April 17, 1861, who died suddenly of congestive chill in 1862, leaving one daughter. December 23, 1863, he was married to Miss Nannie T. Holleman, of Isle of Wight county, who bore him three sons, all of whom survive. While on the Surry Circuit he was married the third time to Miss Julia A. Briggs, March 24, 1875. One son was the fruit of this marriage. His widow and all of his children—one daughter and four sons—survive him. To them he leaves the memory of an affectionate, tender and faithful husband and father, and the heritage of a consecrated and useful life spent in preaching the Gospel of Christ.

These brief statements give some of the salient facts in the life of William Edward Allen, but eternity only can unfold the results of his long, useful and devoted labors for the spread of the kingdom of God.

Success followed his labors in every charge. Bright, genial, loving, tender, diligent, earnest and faithful, he won his way to all hearts. While firm and decided in his convictions, he did not antagonize, but drew by the cords of love. He was a great favorite with children. They loved to gather about him and listen to his affectionate words of admonition and counsel.

A more universally beloved preacher, by all the people, in and out of the church, in all the charges he served, I never knew. Other denominations honored and loved him, and gladly sought his services in their pulpits.

Brother Allen had great success in winning souls. Revivals followed his labors on every charge. He was a good preacher—a magnetic dispenser of the Word of Life—an all-round Methodist itinerant preacher, doing well all the work assigned him. Throughout Eastern Virginia and North Carolina the name of William E. Allen is like precious ointment poured forth.

After his superannuation, Brother Allen retired to his home in Wakefield, Va., but he was not idle. He spent his last days in useful and active labor—teaching in the Sabbath-school, preaching when his services were needed, filling the pulpits of other denominations, visiting the sick, comforting the distressed, praying with and cheering the dying, burying the dead—taking a deep interest in the welfare of the town in which he lived, ready for every good word and work, doing in his last days some of the best work of his long and useful life.

Conducting the burial services of a friend in the rain, he took cold, and this, combined with other physical infirmities, soon caused the “silver cord to be loosed” and the “golden bowl to be broken,” and on Friday, March 13, 1908, his happy spirit returned to the God who gave it.

He was buried at Wakefield, Va., on Sunday, March 15, 1908, and his funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. S. Baughan and Rev. Charles H. Green, of the Virginia Conference, in the Methodist church, where he had so long labored.

In 1900 Brother Allen wrote for the “Twentieth Century Edition of Sketches and Portraits of the Virginia Conference” words which will fitly close this brief memoir:

“In glancing back over these eventful decades, in which gladness and sadness have been so divinely blended, I can say with a degree of joy that words will not convey—

“‘Here I’ll raise my Ebenezer,
Hither by Thy help I’m come;
And I hope, by Thy good pleasure,
Safely to arrive at home.’

“My future career may be brief or extended, my years ahead few or many. I crave that throughout the sunset slope I may ever have it in my heart to sing—

“‘Gladly will I toil and suffer,
Only let me walk with Thee.’”

For forty-nine years, as an itinerant minister, gladly did he “toil and suffer,” walking with God and doing His will; and he “is not,” for God has taken him. He has “safely arrived at home.”

Daniel B. Austin

BY R. M. CHANDLER.

DANIEL BATEMAN AUSTIN, son of William and Sallie Forbes Austin, was born on Roanoke Island, December 6, 1845.

On this historic soil, famous as the first English settlement in America and as the birthplace of Virginia Dare, the first child of English parentage born on the American continent, Brother Austin passed the days of his infancy and youth.

In 1863, at the age of eighteen, he joined the Confederate army, was captured by the Federal forces a few months afterward, and held a prisoner to the close of the war. Returning to his native soil when the war was over, he engaged for a time in fishing and farming for a livelihood.

He was married May 31, 1866, to Miss Sallie Forbes, with whom he happily lived for many years, to the time of her death. The issue of this marriage was two sons and a daughter, who still survive.

In 1868, under the preaching of Rev. B. H. Jarvis, a local Methodist preacher of considerable note, Brother Austin gave his heart to God, was happily converted, and united himself to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Here he filled with credit to himself and benefit to the Church, the honorable position of trustee, steward, Sunday-school superintendent, exhorter and local preacher.

In 1878 Brother Austin entered the United States Life-saving Service as a surf-man; but by his great merit and proficiency in this noble but hazardous calling, he soon won his way to the honorable position of captaincy, and was placed in charge of one of the life-saving stations on the North Carolina coast. He devoted thirteen years of his life to this work, and many of his experiences during this period were very thrilling. He was held in highest estimation by the authorities at Washington for his skill and bravery and for his fidelity to duty under the most trying circumstances of hardship and danger, and he could have held on to his honorable and remunerative position for an indefinite period.

But God had other work for Brother Austin; and at the Divine call, he gave up his lucrative position in the United States Life-saving Service for the greater work of preaching the Gospel in a larger field and of saving souls.

At the session of the Virginia Annual Conference held in Petersburg, November, 1891, he was admitted on trial into the traveling connection, and was appointed as junior preacher to Granby-Street and Huntersville, Norfolk, Va. He served this charge for three years, and was then stationed at East Suffolk and Magnolia, which charge he also served for a term of three years. He was then sent to Ebenezer for two years. During his second year at Ebenezer he suffered a great loss in the death of his wife, and left a widower, with three children to care for. At the Conference held in Petersburg November, 1899, he was appointed junior preacher to Central, Central Mission and Brighton, Portsmouth, Va., but was removed after a short time and sent to the South Brunswick Circuit to meet a pressing need that had arisen on that charge. While on this circuit he met with and married Miss Nannie Mason Stainback, who through the succeeding years, to the time of his death, was of great benefit to him in his ministerial work, and who still survives. From South Brunswick he was sent to Wesley, which charge he served one year; then to Haygood Memorial for four years; Cottage Place, one year; and last of all, to Southampton Circuit. Here, on the 30th of October, 1908, near the close of his second year on the charge, he finished the work given him of the Lord, and entered upon his rest.

We come now to consider the man himself. In personal appearance Brother Austin presented a striking figure. Standing over six feet in height, ruddy of complexion, symmetrical in all his proportions, and without an ounce of superfluous flesh, he was a splendid type of physical manhood—well qualified in this particular to endure the hardships of the Methodist itinerant life. But far better than his physical qualifications were those of his mind and his heart.

He was not an educated man, in the college and university sense of the word, but by the constant study of men and of books he educated himself, and gained a store of knowledge most useful in his high and holy calling. And he was a wise man, knowing just when and where and how to apply the knowledge which he had acquired to the best advantage in the Master's kingdom.

He was a judicious and safe man, to whom could be entrusted the solving of difficult problems and the settling of delicate questions in the church, and on occasions he was selected to do this work because of these qualifications.

But beyond this Daniel Bateman Austin was a good man. He knew the Lord. He could say from out of a pure heart, made clean by the "blood of the Lamb," "Abba Father!" "My Lord and my God." He had received the Gospel, "not in word only, but in power and in the Holy Ghost and with much assurance." And "Christ dwelt in his heart by faith." If I am pardoned a personal allusion, as his presiding elder, I would pay this tribute to his memory, that my association with him was to me a benediction and a blessing in spiritual uplift and a closer walk with God.

Brother Austin made no verbal claim to entire sanctification or perfected love. He was a modest man and sounded no trumpets before him, but day by day that was the life that he lived—a life of prayer, a life of praise, a life of constant communion with God.

And Brother Austin died just as he had prayed to die—not by wasting and long-lingering disease, but in the forefront of the battle, clad in the harness of his holy warfare, and with the sword of the Spirit in his hand. Like Moses, "his eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated." And when the sudden bolt descended upon him, he was as strong and as vigorous in mind and body as when, years before, he had stood at the altar of God to consecrate his splendid manhood to the service of God as an itinerant Methodist preacher. So he wished to die, and so he was honored of God.

On the 30th day of October, as the last rays of the setting sun were gilding the forest tops, he was stricken with apoplexy, and fell on the street at Courtland, Va. When found, a few minutes afterward, the vital spark had been quenched and the soul of our brother had gone up to God. His remains were brought to Norfolk and, after funeral services conducted from Queen Street church, were laid away in Elmwood cemetery, there to await the resurrection call and the assembling of the saints.

"He fought a good fight, he finished his course, he kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for him a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will give him at that day."

Joseph R. Griffith

BY JOSEPH W. SHACKFORD.

JOSEPH RICHARD GRIFFITH was born in Richmond, Va., November 14, 1837, and died at Ashland, Va., on Sunday, January 26, 1908. The funeral services were conducted on Monday afternoon by Rev. Ernest Stevens, pastor of Duncan Memorial church, at Ashland, assisted by Rev. E. H. Rawlings, presiding elder of the Richmond District, and Rev. Joseph N. Latham, pastor of Centenary church, Richmond; and his body, borne by the loving hands of his brother ministers, M. S. Colonna, R. H. Potts, George W. Jones, W. F. Hayes, E. K. Odell and H. C. Gregory, was conveyed to Richmond and laid away in the Shockoe Hill cemetery, to await the resurrection morn.

While he was yet an infant both of his parents died, and he was taken by his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hundley, of King and Queen county, Va., who nurtured and reared him with great tenderness and love, supplying in large measure for his childhood days that thoughtfulness and care which only a mother can fully bestow. This venerable woman was a devoted Christian, and she did not fail to impress upon her little grandson the importance of personal religion. In his sixteenth year he gave his heart to God, and joined old Shepherd's church, where he became first a scholar and then a teacher in the Sunday-school, under the superintendency of Rev. John W. Shackford, for whom he entertained a life-long devotion.

At a very early age this orphan boy evinced remarkable sprightliness of mind, and was given such opportunity for education as the private schools of that vicinity afforded. He attended for one year the school conducted in Richmond City by Rev. P. F. August, late of the Virginia Conference, and afterwards was sent to Fleetwood Academy, in King and Queen county, Va., a classical school of high grade, where he was prepared for college. When about twenty years of age he entered Randolph-Macon College, near Boydton, Va., and studied with special reference to entrance into the ministry, unto which he felt that God had called him.

In 1859, while still at college, he was licensed to preach. In 1860, having graduated in several schools of the Randolph-Macon curriculum, he returned to King and Queen county, and opened for boys and young men a school known as Walkerton Academy. Here he labored with great diligence for three years, frequently interrupted and hindered by the excitement and distress of the Civil War, from which that section of the State so seriously suffered. During this period he often filled the pulpits of the Methodist churches in that community, preaching with great earnestness and fervor.

In February, 1862, at Orange Grove, the home of Rev. John W. Shackford, the officiating minister, he was married to Miss Mary Temple Evans, a niece of Mrs. Shackford and granddaughter of Rev. Hezekiah McLelland, who for many years was a member of the Virginia Conference. She made him a faithful wife and devoted helpmate in his work, and, after eleven years of loving companionship, died in Oxford, N. C., November, 1873, leaving him with three little children—two daughters and a son.

In 1863, after the close of Walkerton Academy, he was elected president of Carolina Female College, located in Anson county, N. C., where he conducted a successful school until the year 1866, when he united with the South Carolina Conference, within whose bounds he was then residing. He was appointed for the next two years to the presidency of Davenport Female College, at Lenoir, N. C., but in 1868 he resigned that position, and thenceforth gave himself wholly to the work of the Methodist itineracy. He was stationed for the next two years at Marion, N. C., but in 1870 this portion of the territory of the South Carolina Conference was transferred to the North Carolina Conference, carrying the resident pastors with it, and Brother Griffith thus became a member of the latter Conference.

He was twice ordained by Bishop George F. Pierce, receiving deacon's orders in Broad Street church, Richmond, Va., in 1863, and elder's orders in Greensboro, N. C., in 1870. His first appointment in his new Conference was Goldsboro Station, where he served two years. His other fields of labor were as follows: Greenville Circuit, three years; Warren Circuit, four years; Toisnot Circuit, one year; Warren Circuit (second time), two years; Ridgeway, one year; Person Circuit, two years; Chapel Hill (seat of the University of North Carolina), one year (1886-'87).

In November, 1887, moved by a great desire to return to his native State, he was transferred to the Virginia Conference and appointed to the Rappahannock Circuit, where he labored for two years. His remaining charges came in the following order: Amelia, 1889-'91; Hanover, 1891-'92; Chesterfield, 1892-'93; Pungoteague, 1893-'97; Onley, 1897-1900; Norfolk Circuit, 1900-'01; Newsoms, 1901-'03; West Dinwiddie, 1903-'05. Then came the end of his itinerant activity. At the Conference in Danville, November, 1905, on account of shattered health and feebleness extreme, he was granted a superannuated relation, which was continued until his death.

At the close of his pastorate on the Greenville Circuit, in December, 1875, Brother Griffith was married to Miss Mary S. Blackwell, of Oxford, N. C., a beautiful and attractive young lady, who now came to share with him the toils and vicissitudes of the itinerant vocation. She was spared to be his dear companion and comforter throughout the prime of his strong manhood, amidst the declining years of his activity, and to be with him at last when the sun of his life went down. She, with five children of this latter marriage—four daughters and one son, and one daughter of the former marriage—remain to bear the loss that death has made in the taking of our brother and comrade away.

Not only in our Virginia Conference, but in the wide fields of two great Commonwealths, where he labored so earnestly for more than forty years to extend the kingdom of God, there are many whose hearts have been made sad by his departure, and whose sincere sympathy goes tenderly out to his loved ones in their deep sorrow.

Brother Griffith was of an ardent, impulsive nature; and sometimes, led on by his intense convictions of the rectitude of his course and the certainty of success, he would almost rush into situations where more cautious men would hesitate to follow. In no sphere of his activity was this trait more manifest than in his conduct of revival services. In his preaching he regarded the conversion of souls as a foregone conclusion—well-nigh as sure of the event as if it had already happened. He had strong faith in the saving power of Gospel truth, and he confidently expected it to take visible effect upon his hearers; and yet, like Martin Luther and other great men of this temperament, he suffered at times with great depression. He was so confident of success in his efforts that failure in any case affected him with deep and genuine distress. At such times his heart longed for and quickly responded to the sincere sympathy and encouragement of his friends. He often preached with singular eloquence, unction and spiritual power; and a great number of souls, both in North Carolina and Virginia, were converted under his ministry.

One of his own household writes of him in these tender and beautiful words:

"He loved the work and the Methodist Church, and delighted to have the ministers in his home. He seemed especially fond of the aged and infirm preachers. He suffered a great deal in his last sickness, but died very peacefully, seemingly unconscious—but I am sure his trust was unfaltering—and he left us on a Sabbath morn, the day he had met so many earthly congregations."

And so it was: the tired heart stood still at last, and our brother went up from the frail and toil-worn tabernacle of earth to dwell in the "house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

Benjamin F. Smith

BY W. W. LEAR.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN SMITH, the son of Downing and Sarah Smith, was born in Greene County, Va., September 4, 1848. His parents were devout Methodists, and they trained their son in the "nurture and admonition of the Lord." While he was yet a youth, he was converted and joined the Methodist Church. Having given himself to the Lord, he was not content to be idle. He was soon made a class-leader and then an exhorter. Later he was licensed as a local preacher. He used to say that one of his earliest memories was that of his mother reading her Bible. Perhaps it was this that begot in the son such a love for the old Book. He delighted in its sacred pages, and even in his last illness, when he was too feeble to read, he kept it by him and, affectionately turning its leaves, spoke of it as the "precious Book."

In 1875 Brother Smith entered Randolph-Macon College to prepare himself for the itinerant ministry, but owing to ill health he did not return the next session. He did not, however, cease to preach, as opportunity offered.

In 1879 he was married to Miss Willie A. Dunn, of Albemarle county. He could have chosen no fitter comrade, no wiser counselor, no more devoted helper. She and their four children—three daughters and one son—live to lament his death.

In March, 1887, at Leesburg, Va., Brother Smith was ordained deacon by Bishop Keener, and the same year was received on trial into the Virginia Conference.

Brother Smith was not counted a brilliant preacher, but he was not without his strong points in the pulpit. He made diligent use of the talents committed to him, and what he lacked in the graces and charms of oratory was in a measure atoned for by his knowledge of the Scriptures and his intense earnestness in the presentation of the truth. Of his genuine piety there could be no doubt. From a somewhat intimate association of four years, I can bear witness to the fact that he walked with God. His religion was no small part of his every-day life; it was the chief thing with him.

In the make-up of his character there was a large element of heroic self-abnegation. He did not pause on the threshold of any contemplated action to ask what might be the result upon his personal fortunes. What he deemed it right to do, he dared to do, with no reference to the cost. The voice of conscience was more imperious than the clamors of self-interest. This spirit was apparent in his loyalty to our Methodist ideals.

During his twenty years in the Conference he served some of the most toilsome and least remunerative of our charges. In fact, his appointments were almost always to minor missions or weak circuits, where the labor was large and the pay, in dollars and cents at least, was so small that it was at times a problem to keep wife and little ones above actual want. And yet, year by year, with cheerfulness and without complaint, he accepted these assignments to service, and in every field he did his best.

Such a man, no matter what may be the world's estimate of him, has surely won the Master's plaudit of "Well done," for the just measure of a man is not his human greatness, nor the might of his achievements, but his loyalty to truth and his unswerving devotion to duty in the sphere, wide or narrow, in which Providence has placed him. As Campbell Morgan well says: "There is something infinitely greater than doing a great thing for God, and that infinitely greater thing is to be where God wants you to be and to do what God wants you to do." Paul says: "We are workers together with God;" and the man who under God toils at the base of the building, amid rude surroundings, whose task is to weave unhewn stones into the foundations, may be forgot amid the applause that greets the skilled worker, who fashions the upper stories into creations of artistic splendor, but with the Master-builder it is not skill, but fidelity that counts, and it counts as much at the bottom as at the cap-stone. It is this faithfulness that we claim for the subject of this memoir. What matters it to him, now that the day's work is done, whether he won the praise of men or not? "The Master praises; what are men?"

Brother Smith's last hours were full of peace. There were no disturbing doubts. At sunset the sky was clear, every cloud had vanished. As a tired child, he went to sleep in the arms of infinite love. While devoted wife and loving children watched and wept about him, he smiled a good-bye and went home to God. On March 17, 1908, he died.

Mrs. Alpheus W. Wilson

Another distinguished servant of God has been added to the list of our Church's dead during this good year of grace 1908. A beautiful earthly life ended when the spirit of Mrs. A. W. Wilson, the beloved wife of our presiding Bishop, and one of the best-known women in the land, took its flight to her heavenly home.

Few women were endowed with so strong a mind; few were so gifted in felicitous expression; few were better acquainted with the divine Word; and none, perhaps, has left a greater impress upon the church at large.

She believed in missions. She saw here a great power for good; she spared neither toil nor sacrifice; and her memory will be sacred to the thousands at home and abroad who knew her and loved her for what she was and what she did in her efforts to elevate, to encourage, and to add to the happiness of mankind. The last days of her life were filled with suffering and sore trial; but this only tended to ripen her for the kingdom and glory of God.

Resolved, 1. That the Virginia Conference, in common with others, extends to Bishop Wilson its profoundest sympathy and condolence in the sad and irreparable loss he has sustained in the death of his dearly beloved companion, who, for so many years, walked the ways of earth with him, rejoicing in his labors and sharing his griefs.

Resolved, 2. That in his hours of loneliness and sorrow, when he longs for the "touch of a vanished hand and the sound of a voice that is still," we point him to the God of all grace and comfort, whose word he has so long and so faithfully proclaimed to others, wishing for him a glad and glorious reunion in "the house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

BOARD OF MISSIONS

Report No. 1.

In presenting its annual report for the year 1908, your Board is filled with joy as it records the progress of the work. At no time in the history of our Conference has the interest in missions been so general, so intelligent and so deep.

The offerings for the year will show a large and cheering increase, and for this we are devoutly thankful; but on the other hand, the demands of the field, many of which are the direct result of our success, are constantly becoming greater and more imperative.

China.—In China, the ferment of popular thought, the constant trend toward modern views and methods, the confiding response of the best people of the Empire to the efforts of the church—all these are but the voice of Providence, calling us to the harvest in a field of ripened and abundant fruit.

Japan.—Our most thoughtful and well-informed missionaries tell us that, while Japan has done great things in the line of political, educational and industrial progress, yet there is a spirit of unrest among her people, and that despair and suicide are some of the fruits of a condition where business is depressed, taxes well-nigh confiscatory, and the people destitute of faith in a gracious and all-healing Saviour.

Mexico.—For decades Mexico, nominally a republic, really a benevolent despotism, has been held in hand by her able and patriotic president. What will be the state of the country in the event of his death is hard to forecast, but it need hardly be said that Protestant Christianity is always and everywhere a mighty force to preserve all that is good. The work of missions in that land has borne fruit that constitutes a mighty argument for increased effort, and for enlarged outlay of money and men.

Under the energetic and tireless lead of Bishop Candler the work in Cuba goes forward most hopefully, while in Brazil our work is steadily commending itself to the most broad-minded and patriotic people of the land. Korea is the modern marvel of missions. The workers are fairly overwhelmed by the tide of converts demanding instruction in Christianity. In all the world of missions there is to be found no man superior in devotion and ability to our own T. H. Yun, the apostle of Korea. In every foreign field we need the best men the church can give, as well as largely increased contributions of money, if we mean in any measure to care for the forty millions assigned to our Church by the mission-workers of Christendom as our part of the unevangelized world.

The Home Field.—The great inflow from Europe, through somewhat checked by the business depression of the year, has by no means ceased, but shows signs of increase. And, what more especially concerns Southern Methodism, is that this great tide is now beginning to wash the shores of the Gulf of Mexico. Galveston will soon be the Ellis Island of the South. The States of Texas and Florida are more and more becoming the refuge of the Italian, said by some to be, of all Europeans, the easiest to lead to Christ. So great are their numbers that in some places they are already feeling their political importance, and may fall a easy prey to designing men. Shall the Church neglect them?

The increase of cotton manufacture in the South has introduced problems that are causing grave anxiety to thoughtful Christians. Crowded into bare, unattractive and unsanitary houses, hampered by night work and child labor, the operatives in these vast establishments constitute a population of a kind that, unless, the work of the gospel shall be energetically, perseveringly and wisely done, will bode no good to the Church and nation. In a shifting and often thriftless population, where the school as well as the church is largely barred out by prevailing conditions, the tendency to produce an illiterate, restless and immoral people is too great to be ignored. The work among such people is some of the most difficult we have to do. The results, as far as figures are concerned, are often meagre and disappointing. Charges remain for years on the list of missions, but we cannot, for such reason, abandon them. The preacher and the deaconess, the teacher and the physician, may all find here a work to fill both heart and hand. Young girls moving to our cities and towns too often go down into the whirlpool of dissipation and sin, and young men are quickly swept away by new and alluring forms of vice and dissipation.

The work of healing is one in which Protestantism has long been a laggard. Stately buildings, where the suffering poor can find relief, and where outcasts can be sheltered, are to be found, but Methodism cannot claim them. The movement to establish in the city of Richmond a work of broad endeavor for the body, the mind and the soul, has received the sympathetic consideration of this board, and has secured its cordial approval.

The need of educational work among the people of our domestic mission fields is now commanding the earnest attention of some of our most thoughtful men. In London, Ky., the Woman's Board of Home Missions has for years conducted a school, the results of which are inspiring. Your board has for some time considered the advisability of undertaking a work of this kind, and has resolved to open a school or schools in the country lying at the foot of the Blue Ridge mountains. We think there is ground for hoping that gifts of land and money will flow in for such a school when once we demonstrate our resolve to establish it.

The Laymen's Movement, now commanding so large a part of the thought and devotion of our sister churches, is rapidly taking shape in our own Conference. We beg that the presiding elders shall see that their districts are fully organized, and that pastors do the same for their charges. For a short while this good work may constitute one more burden for the pastors, but ere long it will become to them the most blessed of helps. On some charges it has already begun to move difficulties from the pastor's path.

The work of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, and of the Woman's Home Mission Board are deserving of all praise. The Rosebuds continue to train thousands of children to work for Christ, and their special work in Mexico advances hopefully.

The work of the Sunday-school Missionary Society, though fitting admirably into our Church machinery, and capable of limitless good, is yet not pressed as it should be by our pastors. The missionary education of our young people is the groundwork of future success, and nowhere can this be better done than in the Sunday-school.

We heartily commend the action of our Sunday-school secretaries in introducing into our literature stated lessons on missions. It has already, in some cases, awakened an interest among schools hitherto indifferent or even hostile to missionary work.

The policy of increased outlay at strategic points, and of gradual but steady pressing for self-support by our mission charges, is one to which your Board stands fully committed.

We gladly call the attention of our people to the work of the Methodist Institute, in Richmond, and we have taken steps looking to the erection, in that city, of a place where body, mind and soul may be cared for, and men and women led to Christ, or helped in Christian life.

The Board requests the appointment of the Rev. E. H. Rawlings as Conference Missionary Secretary.

W. ASBURY CHRISTIAN, President.

W. W. ROYALL, Secretary.

The General Board of Missions has assessed to this Conference the sum of $26,248, and the Board makes an assessment of $17,000, making a total of $43,248 for the two causes.

W. ASBURY CHRISTIAN, President.

W. W. ROYALL, Secretary.

Report No. 2.

Whereas, we are strongly impressed that there is great need of a forward movement by the Conference, and, in consequence of the awakening and organization of the laymen in behalf of the extension of the kingdom of Christ, the time is ripe for initiating such a movement—a movement comprehensive in its scope, to include evangelistic training, social, and medical agencies,

Resolved, That the Board of Missions nominate a committee, consisting of one from each presiding elder's district, the chairman of the Board of Missions and the Conference missionary secretary, said committee to be confirmed by the Annual Conference, which committee is hereby authorized to be incorporated under a name and style that shall be inclusive of the several aims and agencies mentioned in the foregoing preamble, and is furthermore authorized to take such action as may advance the aims and purposes indicated above. And furthermore, if it appears that if any one or more of the above-mentioned objects can best be promoted by prompt action, said committee shall have authority to take steps to inaugurate the same; but said committee shall not take any action that will legally or morally involve the Conference in debt until such action shall have been brought before the Conference for approval.

The Board nominates the following committee to have charge of the matter; G. C. Kelly, John P. Branch, W. McD. Lee, W. T. Martin, R. H. Bennett, James Cannon, Jr., H. O. Kerns, Aug. Wright, J. C. Parker, Jno. L. Roper, A. J. McMath.

JOINT BOARD OF FINANCE

Report No. 1.

Your board has considered very carefully the paper submitted to the Conference by the president and secretary of the Superannuate Endowment Fund, and unanimously recommends the following:

Resolved, I. That the assessment for Conference collections be increased from $17,000 to $20,000, and,

Resolved, II. That the attention of our pastors be called to the action of our General Conference, requesting our pastors to present the claims of the Superannuate Endowment Fund to their congregations the coming year.

B. M. BECKHAM,
Chairman.

Report No. 2.

The Joint Board of Finance regrets the necessity of a general reduction of five (5) per cent. on the amounts first appropriated at this session of Conference to the claimants on its fund. The reduction was made necessary in part by a deficit of $499 in the collections this year, as compared with the amount raised last year. The possibility of this reduction was foreseen by the Board last year, and the charges were urged to make full collections on their assessments for this cause. Their failure is the beneficiaries' loss. The Conference has adopted report Number One, making the assessment for the ensuing year $20,000, and the Board earnestly requests every charge to make diligent effort to bring up the assessment in full.

B. M. BECKHAM,
Chairman.

REPORTS.

The Board of Education.

Our schools are doing their usual good work. The statistics of last session showed that more than 1,350 students were being educated under Methodist influences. Our schools have had a phenomenal growth, but the Methodist students are not increasing in numbers as rapidly and as steadily as we should have wished and might have expected.

The especial function of our schools would seem to be to get our Virginia Methodist people to educate their children in Christian schools, and under the best Christian influences. We should not be satisfied, therefore, with merely having full schools. Methodism is committed to the principle that education is essential to the highest form of religion; and to have the highest order of Christian civilization all the people must be educated. Our Church, being a popular Church, is to be an ever-increasing factor in the development of our Virginia civilization; hence, our Church has a duty and an opportunity in the matter of urging upon our people their supreme responsibility for the thorough education of their children under the best Christian influences.

That our people are making progress in education is shown by the figures given by Dr. R. H. Pitt in the Religious Herald of the number of students pursuing their education in Virginia colleges and universities—Episcopalians, 667; Methodists, 638; Presbyterians, 610; Baptists, 513. The Methodists stand second here; but if Emory and Henry College had sent in statistics, the Methodists would easily have been in the lead. Nevertheless, when we remember the large number of Methodists in the State, we see that we have much to do in stimulating our people to seek the highest development for their children. In a recent article by Dr. Henry Louis Smith, president of Davidson College, our Church is called "the great educational Church in the United States." Virginia Methodism must and will do its part in maintaining this reputation. Our successes in the past should encourage us for the inspiring work of developing in our State the highest form of Christian citizenship.

In all forms of academic activities, the students in our schools are prominent among their peers. The Conference will be glad to know that in missionary zeal and in earnestness in Bible study, the students are catching the spirit of the new awakening. At Randolph-Macon about ninety (90) per cent. of the students are members of the church. Eighty (80) are in the volunteer Bible classes, and there is a good mission study class. Last session the students doubled their contributions for foreign missions. At the Woman's College practically all the boarding students are enrolled in the Y. W. C. A. The volunteer Bible study classes are largely attended, as are the special mission study classes. There are now six former students in the foreign mission field, four of them full graduates, and there are eleven students volunteers. The Y. W. C. A. has assumed the support of one of the missionaries, costing $750.00. In all of our schools we sedulously seek to give sound and high education, and in our view, the highest education is the education that results in the highest development of Christian character.

We beg leave to offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1. That the presiding Bishop be requested to appoint E. H. Rowe as Principal of the Southern Seminary; James Cannon, Jr., as Principal of Blackstone Female Institute; John C. Granbery, as student at the University of Chicago, and B. T. Candler, as student at Vanderbilt University.

Resolved, 2. That the Joint Board of Finance be requested to apportion to the several Districts $7,000.00 for the benefit of Randolph-Macon College, and $3,180.00 to meet the assessment for educational extension, which may be assessed separately and raised separately, as may seem wise on each charge.

The educational statistics for the year ending June, 1908, are as follows:

Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Va.—R. E. Blackwell, President; value of grounds, buildings and appliances, $153,334.36; endowment, $234,767.83; officers and teachers, 15; number of students, 153.

Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg, Va.—Name of present chief officer, W. W. Smith; value of grounds, buildings and appliances, $337,000.00; endowment, $202,000.00; number of officers and teachers, 45; number of students, 390.

Randolph-Macon Academy, Bedford City, Va.—Name of present chief officer, E. Sumter Smith; value of grounds, buildings and appliances, $110,000.00; number of officers and teachers, 12; number of students, 227.

Randolph-Macon Institute, Danville, Va.—Name of present chief officer, Charles G. Evans; value of grounds, buildings and appliances, $86,000.00; number of officers and teachers, 20; number of students, 181.

Total value of grounds, buildings and appliances, $881,334.36; total endowment, $436,767.83; total number of officers and teachers, 124; number of students, collegiate, 543; sub-collegiate, 811; total, 1,354.

R. E. BLACKWELL, President.

JAS. CANNON, JR., Secretary.

Report of Committee on the Relation of Randolph-Macon System to the Virginia Annual Conference.

Your committee, appointed at the session of the Conference in November, 1907, and authorized "to consult with the Trustees of Randolph-Macon College, and request said Trustees to take such steps as may be requisite and necessary to give to the Conference a voice in the selection of Trustees, either by nomination or election," met on June 4th, and, after extended consultation, unanimously decided to present the following paper to the Board of Trustees of Randolph-Macon College:

To the Board of Trustees of Randolph-Macon College:

DEAR BRETHREN: At the session of the Virginia Conference, held in Petersburg, Va., November 13-20, 1907, the undersigned were appointed as a committee to consult with the Trustees of Randolph-Macon College concerning the relation of the Randolph-Macon System to the Virginia Conference, and to request that the Trustees take such steps as may be requisite and necessary to give to the Conference a voice in the selection of Trustees, either by nomination or election. In pursuance of these instructions, we, the committee appointed by the Conference, respectfully submit to your Board the appended statement, and request the Board to make response thereto in writing, which response will be submitted by us to the Virginia Annual Conference at its next session in Norfolk, Va.

The immediate occasion for this appointment of our committee by the Conference was the discussion which arose at the Conference concerning the adoption of a certain resolution by the Board of Trustees of Randolph-Macon College on August 16, 1906. This resolution was adopted by the Board of Trustees as a necessary prerequisite to the acceptance of the Randolph-Macon Woman's College by the Trustees of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching to a place upon the Foundation. That resolution was as follows:

"That in the conduct of the Randolph-Macon Woman's College no denominational test is imposed in the choice of trustees, officers or teachers, or in the admission of students, nor are distinctly denominational tenets or doctrine taught to the students."

The Virginia Conference, as a body, had no information concerning the passage of this resolution until the Conference in November, 1907. At that time the attention of the Conference was called to the passage of the resolution, and a special committee was appointed by the Conference to consider the relation of the Randolph-Macon System to the Conference. The said committee considered with great care this important question, and the report of the committee was discussed at length by the Conference, and the Conference adopted resolutions setting forth its view of the relation existing between the System and the Conference. These resolutions state that, while there exists no legal bond or tie between the College and the Virginia Conference, yet the System and the Conference are, in the opinion of the Conference, held together by a tie which is sympathetic, moral and equitable, and that this tie fully justifies the claim which has been made by our preachers, by our College representatives, and by all other Methodist people—namely, that all the institutions of learning within the Randolph-Macon System are our own Church schools.

In view of the fact, however, that there is much solicitude on the part of many members of the Church growing out of the fact that there is no legal or formal tie between the two bodies, the Conference decided to appoint a committee to consult with the Board of Trustees concerning the relation of the System to the Conference, and to request that the Trustees take such steps as may be requisite and necessary to give the Conference a voice in the selection of Trustees, either by nomination or election.

Since the appointment of this committee by the Conference in November, 1907, certain statements have been made regarding the meaning of the resolution adopted by the Board on August 16, 1906, which statements have greatly increased the solicitude of our Methodist people and which, in the opinion of our committee, have rendered it even more imperative that some clear-cut, explicit statement should be made by the Board of Trustees concerning the relation of the system to the Conference, and even more imperative that the Conference be given a voice in the selection of Trustees.

Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, the President of the Carnegie Foundation, has made official statements concerning the interpretation which the Carnegie Trustees place upon the resolution adopted by the Randolph-Macon Board, which statements are, in our opinion, directly opposed to the view of the relation which the Virginia Conference declared that it understood to exist between the Randolph-Macon System and the Conference. Among these statements of Dr. Pritchett are the following:

In the second annual report of the president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, in the discussion of the facts concerning the acceptance of the Randolph-Macon Woman's College, the following language is used:

"The outcome of this policy means a relation between the Randolph-Macon College and the denomination, which is one of traditional friendship and sympathy, but not one of control.

"Before final action was taken by the Executive Committee of the Foundation in the admission of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, some time was consumed in correspondence and conferences with regard to certain matters of administrative usage, which pointed, at least in public estimation, to a denominational control of the Woman's College by the Church. For example, in the official publications of the Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Randolph-Macon Woman's College was included in the list of the colleges from that Church, most of which are under the control of that body. Such control seemed also to be assumed or implied in the resolution of the Virginia Conference in its meeting in the autumn of 1906, in which 'our Church schools, Randolph-Macon College, Randolph-Macon Woman's College,' etc., were commended to the patronage of the Church. In the judgment of the Executive Committee of the Foundation this attitude toward the denomination would in the future be inconsistent with the spirit of the resolutions adopted by the Board of Randolph-Macon Trustees on August 16, 1906."

These statements, made in the published official report of the Carnegie Foundation, clearly indicate that no institution can be included in the list of those whose teachers are entitled to the benefits of the retiring allowances of the Carnegie Foundation, if it is under denominational control, or even if it is commended to the patronage of the Church in such language as "our Church schools."

The understanding of the Virginia Conference of the relation existing between the Randolph-Macon System and the Virginia Conference is certainly very different from that which Dr. Pritchett says must really exist between the College and the denomination, if the College expects to participate in the benefits of the Carnegie Foundation.

(2) Again, Dr. Pritchett says:

"This resolution committed the Board of Trustees, in our judgment, to a choice of members on the ground of fitness for the Board, neither rejecting a man nor taking him on account of his denominational ties. Under such a policy, honestly administered, the Board will, in the long run, contain a considerable proportion of members who are not Methodists." (See letter to Rev. James Cannon, Jr., date of March 13, 1908, published in Baltimore and Richmond Advocate March 19, 1908.)

(3) Again, Dr. Pritchett says: "It is evident that we in the Carnegie Foundation understood your action to be more far-reaching than you understand it to be. It seems to be natural that we should think so, since we found your Board composed entirely of one denomination—a circumstance which cannot continue under an honest enforcement of the resolution which you adopted in August, 1906; and I think we are therefore justified in feeling, in view of the present situation, that the adoption of such a resolution marked a new epoch. It seems to me, however, desirable now that there should be no further misunderstanding in any direction, and when you take this matter up, I think it should be made clear to your Board that our understanding of this resolution is that in the selection of trustees the first consideration shall be: Is this man fitted morally, intellectually and in other ways to be a trustee? And that the selection shall be made on these grounds, without regard to denominational ties, neither favoring nor rejecting a man because he belongs to this or that denomination." (Extract from letter to Judge Newman, December 14, 1907, published in Baltimore and Richmond Advocate, March 19, 1908.)

(4) Again, Dr. Pritchett says: "In order that there may be no further misunderstanding on this point, let me add again that in our understanding, an institution which has agreed to elect its trustees in the manner prescribed by our resolution could not consistently with this resolution go before a Conference or other religious body on the plea of being a Church school, since the only thing that could make it a distinctly Church school would be the indirect control which might come by choosing trustees from the denomination—an act which is contrary to the spirit of the resolution." (Extract from letter to Judge Newman, September 14, 1907, published in Baltimore and Richmond Advocate, March 19, 1908.)

According, therefore, to the interpretation placed by Dr. Pritchett upon the resolution of August 16, 1906, the Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees has agreed to nominate and elect Trustees in the future without regard to their relation to the Methodist Church; and, according to Dr. Pritchett, the Randolph-Macon institutions cannot consistently, with this resolution, go before a Church or Conference on the plea of being Church schools. These statements, made by Dr. Pritchett concerning the meaning given by the Carnegie Trustees to the action taken by the Randolph-Macon Board, show very clearly that if the Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees shall agree with the interpretation placed upon their action by the Carnegie Board, then the relation which the Virginia Conference in 1907 declared to be the existing relation between the System and the Conference is not the relation which the Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees understands to exist.

Paragraph 200 of the Discipline of our Church distinctly declares that all Trustees of our schools and colleges must be members of our Church, when proper persons can be had; otherwise, one-third of each Board may be elected from without. If the position of the Virginia Conference is correct, and there is both a moral and equitable tie between the Randolph-Macon System and the Conference, and all the institutions of learning within the Randolph-Macon System are our own Church schools, the Trustees must be selected from members of the Methodist Church, if proper persons can be found. But Dr. Pritchett positively declares that, by the adoption of the resolution of August 16, 1906, the Trustees of the Randolph-Macon System must be selected without regard to denominational ties, and that the Randolph-Macon schools cannot appear before a religious body as Church schools.

We are constrained to believe that, in the adoption of the resolution of August 16, 1906, the Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees did not place the interpretation upon this action which has been placed upon it by the Carnegie Board, and, furthermore, we are fully satisfied that the Randolph-Macon Board had no intention of changing in any way its relation to the Virginia Conference by the passage of said resolution. In view, however, of the fact that the above interpretation has been placed upon the action of the Board of Trustees of Randolph-Macon by the President of the Carnegie Board, the solicitude of our people concerning the relation of the Randolph-Macon System to the Virginia Conference has been greatly increased, and our committee feels that it is of the first importance that it shall be able to report to the Virginia Conference at its next session whether the Board of Trustees agrees with the interpretation placed upon its action by the Carnegie Board, or whether, since the Carnegie Board has declared what it understands to be the purport of the resolution, the Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees, now at its first meeting, after the publication of the interpretation put upon its action by the Carnegie Board, will declare that it did not so understand the resolution at the time of its adoption.

In order, therefore, that in our report to the Conference we may be able properly to represent the position of the Randolph-Macon Board, we would be glad for the Board to express clearly its agreement or disagreement with the following statements:

(1) Dr. Pritchett has stated that, in accordance with the understanding of the Carnegie Board of Trustees, the Randolph-Macon Board has agreed to nominate and elect Trustees in the future without regard to their relation to the Methodist Church. Does the Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees agree with this interpretation of their action by the President of the Carnegie Board?

(2) Dr. Pritchett has stated that "The adoption of such a resolution marked a new epoch." Does the Randolph-Macon Board agree with this statement?

(3) Dr. Pritchett has stated that, "An institution, which has agreed to elect its Trustees in the manner prescribed by our resolution could not consistently with this resolution go before a Conference or other religious body on the plea of being a Church school." Does the Randolph-Macon Board agree that the Randolph-Macon institutions cannot in the future be represented before our Conferences as Church institutions?

The publication of these statements by Dr. Pritchett has greatly increased the concern of our people on the subject of the relation of the Colleges to the Church, and while we believe that it will be of great value for the Board to make a clear, explicit statement that the Randolph-Macon System will in the future, as in the past, be owned and controlled by the Church, and that the Board intends to follow Paragraph 200 of the Discipline and elect only Methodist Trustees, yet the anxiety of many of our people will not be relieved, unless the tie between the System and the Conference be made as strong as the law of the State of Virginia will permit. We, therefore, request the Board of Trustees to make application to the State Corporation Commission for such change in the charter of Randolph-Macon College as will give to the patronizing Conferences a voice in the selection of Trustees, either by nomination or direct election. We are not unmindful of the fact that objection may be made to this proposition on the ground that it is illegal, but we are satisfied that nothing short of such action will fully satisfy all of our people and set at rest their anxiety, and moreover, our committee thinks that any opposition to this action can be successfully, if need be, resisted in the courts or before the Corporation Commission. As representatives of the Conference, we request the Board of Trustees to grant this request of our Conference, and we believe the Corporation Commission will promptly grant this request, unless there be strenuous opposition to this expressed desire both of the Board and the Church.

The Virginia Conference has already requested, without a dissenting voice, that a change be made. The Baltimore Conference has requested that the Board of Trustees give such a guarantee for the future as shall put beyond possible question the moral ownership by the Church of the entire Randolph-Macon System. Thus the co-operation of the Methodism of both Conferences is assured in advance, and it is improbable that any effective opposition will arise, should the Board itself request the Corporation Commission to make this Charter change. For over three-quarters of a century the property has been declared to be owned and controlled by the Church, and no valid objection can be made to the request of the Church for a change in the method of holding its own property. In case there should be any such opposition to this change as to make it necessary, we would suggest that the Board employ able counsel, and leave no stone unturned to press the action to a successful issue, and obtain the change so greatly desired by the Church.

In the event, however, that the Board should encounter opposition to this desired change of charter, and should finally be defeated in its effort, our committee request that the Board take such action as will give to the Conference the right to nominate persons from among whom the Trustees shall be selected. This can be easily accomplished without any change of charter, and without involving any legal question. The Trustees can pass a resolution requesting the Conference to select a certain number of men, preachers and laymen, from whom the Board will select Trustees to fill all vacancies that may arise. No legal objection can be raised to any effort made by the Board to consult its best friends, and to find out their wishes in the selection of new members of the Board, and while such an arrangement will not furnish a close legal tie, and can be changed at the pleasure of the Board, yet it will be far more satisfactory to the Conference than the present plan. This method has in substance been followed by your Board in other years in its negotiations with the Baltimore and South Carolina Conferences, and no question can be raised as to its legality. It is also followed by your Baptist and Presbyterian brethren in this State without friction and with satisfaction to their people, and in one form or another is the method in vogue throughout our Church.

Summing up, therefore, we would respectfully request:

(1) That the Board give to our committee such explicit statements concerning the matters under discussion as summarized above, that there may be no question as to the exact position of the Board.

(2) That the Board instruct its attorney to make application to the State Corporation Commission for such change in its Charter as will give to the patronizing Conference the right to nominate or to elect Trustees as the Conference may desire, and that the Board instruct its attorney in case serious opposition should arise, to press the matter to a final issue in the highest courts of the Commonwealth.

(3) That in the event this request for a change of charter shall be denied in the highest tribunals, the Board of Trustees pass a resolution requesting the Conferences to select a certain number of men from among whom the Board will select Trustees to fill all vacancies that may arise in their number.

All the members of our committee are present, ready to consult with the Board, to answer any questions, or to give any information. Our great hope is that this conference will result in the final settlement of the important issue involved in such a manner that our Methodist people may be bound more closely than ever to the Randolph-Macon System, and that the System may be increasingly effective in building up the Master's kingdom. Every member of our committee is an alumnus of Randolph-Macon College, and we long most earnestly and sincerely that all things shall work together for good to the institutions under the care of the Randolph-Macon Board. For the best interests of those institutions and of the Church at large our committee think that this statement and the reply of the Board thereto should be given to our people as early as possible through the Church press. With full confidence that our brethren of the Randolph-Macon Board desire to do what shall be best for the great cause of Christian education as carried on through you by our beloved Church, and assuring you that our committee representing the Virginia Conference desires to do everything possible to aid you in the accomplishment of the great work which the Church has committed to your hands, the above statement is respectfully submitted by your brethren in the faith.

The above paper was presented to the Board of Trustees of Randolph-Macon College at their annual session in Ashland in June, 1908, and full consultation was had between your committee and the committee appointed by the Board for this purpose. To the request of the Conference, as presented by your committee, the Trustees made written reply. A certified copy of this reply has been furnished the committee by W. S. Brown, Esq., Secretary of the Board of Trustees of Randolph-Macon College, and is as follows:

RANDOLPH-MACON COLLEGE, VA.,
October 31, 1908.

Rev. James Cannon, Jr., Rev. J. B. Winn, Rev. R. H. Bennett, Mr. Frank Talbott, Judge T. J. Barham, Committee from the Virginia Conference.

DEAR SIRs:—

As Secretary of the Board of Trustees of Randolph-Macon College, I give below over my signature and the seal of the College, a certified copy of the action of our Trustees in June, 1908, on the relation of Randolph-Macon to the Church, as follows:

Your committee, to whom was referred the request of the Virginia Conference, through its committee, that the Conference be given a voice in the selection of Trustees, respectfully report that, after a full hearing of the committee of the Conference, they have maturely considered the question, and report as follows:

The resolution of the Virginia Conference preferring the request is contained in the following paper:

To the Virginia Conference:

The undersigned of your committee, to whom was referred the question as to the relations existing between Randolph-Macon College and the Virginia Conference, beg to state that they have examined into the question as fully as they could, having before them the Charter of the College, and representations made to them by members of the Board of Trustees and others as to the conduct of the institution during the whole term of its history, and they beg leave leave to report:

First. That from this examination they are satisfied that there now exists no legal bond or tie between the College and the Virginia Conference, but that the Board itself is composed of an equal number of ministers and laymen, all of said ministers being members either of the Virginia or Baltimore Conference, and all of said laymen being members in good standing of some charge within the bounds of the Virginia or Baltimore Conference; and they feel constrained to believe that, by the tie so established, by the previous history of the Institution and its management by the Board of Trustees, and by the present constitution of that Board, the College and the Conference are held together by a tie which is sympathetic, traditional, moral and equitable; and that this tie fully justifies the claim which has been made by our preachers, by our College representatives, and by all other Methodist people—namely, that all the institutions of learning within the Randolph-Macon System are our own Church schools.

Second. In view of the fact, however, that there may possibly be some solicitude on the part of some members of the Church, having the interest of Methodism at heart, growing out of the fact that there is no legal or formal tie between the two bodies, your committee would recommend that a committee of five, consisting of three preachers and two laymen, none of whom shall be a member of the Board of Trustees, or be in any way connected with the Randolph-Macon institutions, be appointed by the presiding officer of this Conference, and that said committee be, and they hereby are, authorized and instructed to consult with the Trustees of Randolph-Macon College, and request said Trustees to take such steps as may be requisite and necessary to give the Conference a voice in the selection of Trustees, either by nomination or election.

Third. That by this request no censure is implied and no blame is attached to any action of the present Board of Trustees, or to the administration of any institution within the Randolph-Macon System.

(Signed) J. B. WINN,
G. C. KELLY,
CHAS. T. REEKES,
THOMAS I. HUGHES,
J. W. GRANDY,
A. W. SHORT.

In the written paper offered by the committee of the Conference are, however, certain questions propounded, which in the judgment of your committee, are not involved in the request of the Virginia Conference, as set out in the resolution above referred to; yet, as there may be some solicitude on the part of some people as to the relation existing between the Conference and the Trustees, it is deemed best by your committee to answer the same.

The questions are as follows:

First. Dr. Pritchett has stated that, in accordance with the understanding of the Carnegie Board of Trustees, the Randolph-Macon Board has agreed to nominate and elect Trustees in the future without regard to their relation to the Methodist Church. Does the Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees agree with this interpretation of their action by the President of the Carnegie Board?

Second. Dr. Pritchett has stated that, "The adoption of such a resolution marked a new epoch." Does the Randolph-Macon Board agree with this statement?

Third. Dr. Pritchett has stated that, "An institution, which has agreed to elect its trustees in the manner prescribed by our resolution, could not consistently with this resolution go before a Conference or other religious body on the plea of being a Church school." Does the Randolph-Macon Board agree that the Randolph-Macon institutions cannot in the future be represented before our Conferences as Church institutions?

As to the first question we respond: If this is a correct statement of Dr. Pritchett's understanding, it is too broadly stated for our unqualified agreement, for it would imply that a person should be elected Trustee who was known to be inimical, antagonistic and unfriendly to the Methodist Church, whether a Methodist or not. The position of the Board is clearly set out in the charter, and in the resolution adopted August 16, 1906, and the action of the Board is not susceptible of such construction as is here ascribed to Dr. Pritchett.

As to the second and third question, we respond to each, NO.

These understandings are somewhat involved, and in order that there may be no misunderstanding, for a more comprehensive reply to the subject-matter of the address of the committee as to the relation of the College to the Church, reference is made to the paper on that subject presented by this special committee to the Board, and adopted at this session, a copy whereof will be furnished to the said committee, and may be read as a part hereof.

Referring now to the specific request of the Virginia Conference that it be given a voice in the selection of Trustees, in the judgment of your committee the trust created by the charter is distinctly a discretionary trust which, in its nature, is not susceptible of being delegated.

That the Trustees are to be elected in all cases of vacancies by the remaining Trustees under the express terms of the charter, and cannot be legally or equitably transferred by the Trustees to any other person or bodies, and they therefore recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Trustees have carefully considered the request of the Virginia Conference, "that the Trustees take such steps as may be requisite and necessary to give the Conference a voice in the selection of Trustees, either by nomination or election," and respectfully say that, while they are determined to do everything in their power to continue the close relations which have always existed between the Conference and the College, they feel that they have neither the legal nor the moral right under the charter to transfer the power of electing the Trustees to any other person or body; that in their judgment this power of election of Trustees by which the corporation is perpetuated, is a material power, which neither the Trustees themselves, the Legislature of Virginia, the Corporation Commission nor any court has the power to change.

Your special committee, to whom was referred certain papers presented by Bros. Lipscomb, Armstrong and Newman, respectfully, without adopting either of the said papers, present the following with reference to the matters therein referred to, for the adoption of the Board.

In the summer of 1906 the president of the Carnegie Foundation forwarded to the president of Randolph-Macon Woman's College a letter containing the following extracts:

"The Executive Committee authorizes me to say that upon the passage of the resolution mentioned in the marked copy of the rules which I am sending you under separate cover, and the official certification thereof by the Trustees of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, that institution will be admitted to the benefits of the Carnegie Foundation."

Whereupon, at a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Randolph-Macon College, they being the legal Trustees of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, and acting for that institution, held August 16, 1906, the following resolution, which has been formulated for general use by the Executive Committee of the Carnegie Foundation, was adopted by this Board:

Resolved, That, in the conduct of the Randolph-Macon Woman's College, no denominational test is imposed in the choice of Trustees, officers or teachers, or in the admission of students, nor are distinctly denominational tenets or doctrines taught to the students."

Before the forwarding of this resolution by the Carnegie Committee they had before them a copy of our Charter, and the following publication which had been inserted in our catalogue for more than a decade prior to that time:

"These five institutions are owned by one chartered self-perpetuating Board of Trustees, to which public-spirited men and women have entrusted large means for the purpose of providing facilities for the education of young men and women under Christian influences. It is not sought or desired in any of these institutions to influence the denominational preferences of students, but the officers in charge consider themselves under obligations to conform to the moral standards and religious usages of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, under whose auspices the institutions were established. These schools and colleges are but the contribution of members of that Church and of other patrons of education who had confidence in its administration of such trusts, to the uplifting of the world by means of education. The work is entirely benevolent. There are no stockholders, nor are the executive officers financially interested. The funds contributed for the purpose are applied to the best advantage for making of strong and noble men and women, and the benefits of the facilities are open alike to all of any and every denomination. Its loan funds and scholarships are awarded to needy and worthy students without discrimination."

Inasmuch, however, as some disquietude exists among some of the friends of the Randolph-Macon System growing out of certain constructions put upon the said resolutions of August 16, 1906, which have been made and published; that there may be no misunderstanding with reference thereto, this Board at this, the first meeting held by it since the said publication, declare:

First. That the resolution of August 16, 1906, is only a declaration of the facts, stating what has been the continuous policy of this Board since its formation, as shown by its past history and its charter of incorporation, and was not intended by the Board to make, nor in fact did make, any change whatever in the then existing relation of the Randolph-Macon System to the Virginia and Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Second. That it was not the intention or purpose of this Board of Trustees to make any change whatever in the then existing relation between the Randolph-Macon College System and said Conferences, under whose auspices the College was organized and was fostered and developed into the Randolph-Macon System of colleges and academies of to-day, and it is the purpose of the Board that this relation shall never be disturbed.

Third. We advise that under the original deed of Mr. Carnegie, the Randolph-Macon Woman's College is entitled to the benefits of that Foundation fund as a denominational school, and we will gratefully accept the benefits, provided it can be done without any compromise of the rights of this Board of Trustees to the control of the Randolph-Macon System absolutely, as in the past and as required by its charter, and without disturbing the present relation of the College to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. But if the acceptance of this benefit will require the relinquishing or limitation of the absolute right of management of the institution or the conduct of its affairs under the charter, or change in any way the relationship of the schools and the Church, then we would decline to accept the benefits of the said Carnegie Foundation.

Fourth. Whereas, some difference of opinion seems to have arisen as to the construction to be placed upon the resolution passed on the 16th of August, 1906, and the possible effect of said resolution on the control of this Board over the property held by them under the charter, especially as to the Randolph-Macon Woman's College, in order to establish a perfect agreement, and avoid any further misunderstanding, Resolved, That a committee, to consist of the president of this Board and two other trustees, to be by him appointed, be, and they are hereby, directed to confer with the Executive Committee of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, and advise it of the views and intentions of this Board as to the existence, and the future maintenance, of the relations existing between the College and system of schools under control of this Board and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, as above set out, and arrive at a positive understanding in writing, between the two Boards, upon this subject, and report the same to this Board.

Whereas, In the judgment of this Board, Randolph-Macon College was founded through the efforts of Methodist people, and has since the organization been fostered and built up chiefly through the active efforts and contributions of Methodist people connected with the Virginia and Baltimore Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, under the impression that the College was to be conducted and the trust administered under the auspices and patronage of said Conferences; therefore,

Resolved, That we, the Board of Trustees of Randolph-Macon College, declare that we hold the property of the College under the terms of the charter, and are obliged to administer its affairs under and in conformity with this charter and within its limitations; yet, realizing that the property which we hold is most largely the result of the efforts and contributions of Southern Methodists within the bounds of said Conferences, we feel that the trust is a sacred one, which should be exercised so as to carry out the wishes and intentions of the contributors, as above set forth, so far as it can be done consistently with the terms of our Charter and our duty and obligations thereunder.

We believe that the management of the past three-quarters of a century is the best guaranty we can give for the faithful discharge of our duties and assurance that the confidence reposed in us has not been misplaced.

Resolutions Concerning the Randolph-Macon System.

Whereas, the Virginia Annual Conference, at its session in Petersburg, November, 1907, appointed a committee to confer with the Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees and to request that the Conference be given a voice in the selection of Trustees, either by nomination or by direct election; and,

Whereas, the said committee has reported that it did confer with the said Board of Trustees and did present the request of the Virginia Conference to said Board at its annual meeting in June, 1908, and that the said Randolph-Macon Board made reply to said committee declaring that it had neither the legal nor the moral right under the charter to grant the request of the Virginia Conference; and,

Whereas, the said Board of Trustees, at its session in June, 1908, furthermore declared that Randolph-Macon College was founded through the efforts of Methodist people, and has since the organization been fostered and built up chiefly through the active efforts and contributions of Methodist people; and,

Whereas, in the year 1870 a committee, representing the majority of the said Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees, made official declaration to the Legislature of Virginia that "the creator of the College was the Virginia Conference," and that "the College is in moral law and justice the property of the Conference," therefore, be it

Resolved, 1. That we hereby express our unqualified agreement with the official declaration of a committee representing the majority of the Board of Trustees made to the Legislature of Virginia in 1870 that "the creator of the College was the Virginia Conference," and that "the College is in moral law and justice the property of the Conference."

Resolved, 2. That in view of the said declaration of the said Board of Trustees that it has neither the legal nor the moral right under its charter to comply with the request of the Virginia Conference, made in November, 1907, we hereby respectfully, but earnestly, request the said Board of Trustees to unite with the Virginia Annual Conference, through its committee, to be hereafter provided for, in an application to the Corporation Commission of the Commonwealth of Virginia to amend the charter of Randolph-Macon College in the following particulars:

First. To amend the charter by the insertion of a trust clause, similar to that which the Discipline of our Church provides for holding other Church property, so that the property held by the Randolph-Macon Board shall be bound to the M. E. Church, South, as closely as the laws of the State of Virginia will permit.

Second. To amend the Charter by the insertion of a provision that, before taking the oath of office, all Trustees shall be confirmed, nominated, or elected directly by the respective Conferences which they represent on the Board of Trustees, in accordance with such regulations as may be agreed upon by the present Board of Trustees.

Resolved, 3. That in the event the joint application of the Board of Trustees and of the Virginia Annual Conference to the Corporation Commission for the aforesaid amendments to the Charter shall be denied by the said Corporation Commission, then the said Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees is requested to pass a resolution calling upon each Conference represented in the Board of Trustees, whenever a vacancy shall occur in its representation in said Board, to nominate three persons, from which persons so nominated by the respective Conferences the said Board of Trustees agrees to fill all vacancies that may occur in the membership of said Board.

Resolved, 4. That in the event the said Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees shall decide that it cannot join with the Conference in an application to the Corporation Commission for the above-mentioned changes in the Charter, then, and not until then, the Board of Trustees is requested to submit the matter of the wisdom of these suggested charter amendments to a commission of five persons, said persons to be selected from among the clerical or lay members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, residing outside the bounds of the Virginia and Baltimore Conferences, two to be selected by the Board of Trustees and two by the committee appointed by the Conference, the fifth member of the commission to be selected by the other four members, chosen as indicated above, it being mutually agreed by the Board of Trustees and by the Conference that the findings of said commission shall be accepted by both parties.

Resolved, 5. That a committee of seven members, consisting of four preachers and three laymen, none of whom shall be members of the Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees, or connected in any official way with any of the institutions under the care of the Randolph-Macon Board, be selected by the Conference by ballot, and the said committee so selected be and is hereby instructed to communicate promptly with said Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees, and to present to the said Board the above preamble and resolutions, and to take such action as may be necessary to carry into effect the wishes of the Conference, as indicated above; and the said committee is instructed to request the Board of Trustees of Randolph-Macon College to meet in special session at as early a date as possible after January 1st, in order to confer with the committee hereby constituted by the Virginia Annual Conference. In the event that any vacancies shall occur, the remaining members of the committee are hereby empowered to fill said vacancies.

Resolved, 6. That the above action is taken with a high appreciation of the work which has been done by the Randolph-Macon Board of Trustees, and with no intention of reflecting in any way upon the motives of the said Board, but, in view of all the facts, the Conference is obliged to meet its own responsibility and to safeguard the interests of the Church which have been committed to its care, and this it must do in accordance with its judgment as to what is for the best interest of the educational work of the Church.

Publishing Interests.

The report from the agents of our Publishing House, with the endorsation of the Book Committee, was before us, and we find that after deducting for all possible losses on accounts, and depreciation in values, there is a net profit of $21,287.04, this amount being added to the net capital of the House.

The circulation of the Nashville Christian Advocate and the Epworth Era remain practically unchanged, while the Quarterly Review has increased considerably. It is gratifying to note that all of these periodicals have met the expense of their publication for the year. We also note with pleasure that the circulation of the Sunday-school literature continues to increase, and that two greatly needed periodicals have been launched—The Adult Student and The Primary Teacher. We commend to the patronage of our people the publications of the House, and earnestly hope that all these publications may have a much wider circulation.

The work of Rev. J. S. Hunter, Superintendent of Colportage, should commend itself to this Conference. In supplying good, wholesome literature he is doing incalculable good, and should have the hearty co-operation of all our people, both preachers and laymen.

The Baltimore and Richmond Christian Advocate still keeps up its high standard of excellence. It is ably edited, as evidenced by the strong and timely utterances on the great questions that concern our Methodism, and the moral welfare of the public generally. It should be in the homes of all our Methodist people.

We offer the following resolutions and recommendations:

1st. That we heartily endorse the able management of the Advocate.

2nd. That we call upon our preachers to co-operate with the management in keeping up the present standard, and that special effort be made to increase the circulation of the paper.

We also present for your approval the following recommendations:

1st. That Rev. J. S. Hunter be continued as Superintendent of Colportage, and our people at large be urged to secure from him our own literature, and all other that they may need.

2nd. That we nominate for appointment as members of the Advisory Committee of the Advocate, Revs. E. H. Rawlings, J. T. Bosman, and Prof. R. B. Smithey.

3rd. That we request the Presiding Bishop to appoint Rev. James Cannon, Jr., D. D., editor, and Rev. J. S. Peters, associate editor of the Advocate for the ensuing year.

Advocate Advisory Committee.

DANVILLE, VA., November 12, 1908.

To the Members of the Virginia Conference:

DEAR BRETHREN: The Advocate Advisory Committee beg leave once more to call attention to the demands of the Conference organ upon us and our obligation to give to it our hearty support. We would remind you that with a larger subscription list we should not only bring more of our people into closer touch with the affairs of the Church, but should also make it possible for the owners to give us even better service. As the agent, Rev. J. W. Eure, will this year give up this work in order to re-enter the pastorate, it will be the more needful for each member of the Conference to do his best in securing subscribers. We believe that the conscientious endeavor of the editor to give us a helpful paper merits a larger sympathy.

The present members of the committee were originally appointed because they were in Richmond or sufficiently near, to be in such close touch with the office of the Advocate as to be able to offer advice at any time during the year. They are now so scattered as to make this impossible. We would therefore respectfully ask to be relieved of our duties.

Orphanage.

The Virginia Conference Orphanage has successfully passed the experimental stage, and has earned for itself a large and permanent place in the warmest affections of our people.

Some one has said, "If you save an adult, you save a unit;" but "if you save a child, you save a whole multiplication table," and the logic of this statement has appealed to members of the Virginia Conference, both clerical and lay, with the result that in the few years of its existence, we have been enabled to accumulate a property valued at our last annual meeting at $110,644.30, free of debt.

At that same meeting the following figures and facts were presented by the officers of the institution:

Current expense account of receipts from April 1st to April 1st....	$12,474 11
Amounts received from the farm.....	1,215 00
Profits on farm.....	402 54

We have had under our care since the Orphanage opened 176 children, disposed of as follows:

Placed in other institutions.....	8
Returned to parents.....	17
Placed in homes.....	14
Adopted	3
Homes found for children who never came under our care.....	21
Gone to work.....	2
Gone to school.....	1

Total	176

Cost of Per Capita.

Paid out for support and repairs.....	$5,587 51
Paid out for salary	2,999 01
Paid out for traveling expenses.....	215 31
Paid out for incidentals.....	620 00
Total	$9,421 83

Under our care during the present year.....	108
Cost per capita	$87 23

There are now in the institution to-day 101—44 boys, 57 girls.

Since September 1st this year, we have received 14 children, and 6 have been returned to parents or placed in homes.

By order of the Executive Committee, five of our children who had passed beyond the grade of our teachers, have been sent to the public schools at Richmond. One girl who has developed talent in typewriting and stenography, has been sent, by like order, to the Smithdeal Business College for special instructions. Our Executive Committee has authorized the building of a much-needed barn and workshops, as the beginning of a permanent industrial plant, a necessity for our growing boys, whom we wish to send out in the world ready to fight the battle of life. A weak spot in our system is the lack of an educational and industrial endowment, which we commend to the prayerful consideration of all who love our cause. We have authorized a special committee to raise a fund of $20,000, payable in one, two and three years, for this purpose.

The Board regrets the providential loss this year (September 1st) of our beloved brother, Rev. J. T. Mastin, as superintendent and financial agent. Under God, Brother Mastin's careful planning, indefatigable labor and consecrated devotion to the work among the children has been eminently successful. The Orphanage stands well in the front rank of like institutions in the State of Virginia, and has become the cherished subject of the prayerful and practical benevolence of the whole Conference. We part with Brother Mastin as a salaried officer with the deepest regret; our prayers will follow him in the new field of labor to which God and the State of Virginia have called him. We rejoice that we shall retain not only his personal interest in the work which, humanly speaking, he and his consecrated wife have done so much to promote, but also because he will still remain a member of our Board of Trustees, and continue to give us the benefit of his counsel and ripe experience.

We respectfully request our presiding Bishop to appoint Rev. Arthur B. Sharp as superintendent, and Rev. Dr. J. Wiley Bledsoe as financial agent.

M. S. COLONNA,
*Secretary-Treasurer.Board of Church Extension.

The Board has received from the churches this year $8,271.33, an increase over last year of $1,460.42. Fifty per cent. of this amount, with $125.21 brought over from last year, put at the disposal of the Board $4,260.87.

It is a matter of gratifying interest to report that, whilst the assessment this year was $2,226.60 more than that of last year, the per cent. of amount collected is but very little less.

There were 20 applications for aid before the Board, asking for the sum of $6,675.00.

Appropriations were made as follows:

1. Denny Street, Richmond District.....	$275 00
2. White Memorial, Richmond District.....	200 00
3. Central, Hampton, Richmond District (conditional).....	250 00
4. Chestnut Avenue, Richmond District (conditional).....	200 00
5. Bethesda, Lynchburg District (when insured).....	125 00
6. Bethel, Petersburg District (when insured).....	75 00

20. Hasker Memorial, Richmond District.....	300 00

There was brought to the attention of the Board a new and extensive church enterprise, in connection with the West Street church, Petersburg. Whilst no financial aid could at present be given to this movement, it is highly commended, and it is believed that the parties who have it in hand guarantee its success.

The Board respectfully offers the following recommendations for adoption:

1. That whenever the Washington City enterprise committee shall take decisive action to bring to completion that great work, this Conference stands ready to co-operate.
2. That wherever Loan Fund Day, appointed for May 10, 1908, was not observed, this collection be taken the ensuing year.
3. That wherever practicable, city and district Church Extension Societies be organized, as provided for in Par. 397-398 of the Discipline.
4. That our presiding elders bring before the District Conferences the work of church extension, as provided for in Par. 399 of the Discipline.

A. C. BERRYMAN, Chairman.

ARTHUR B. SHARPE, Secretary.

Epworth League Board.

The Epworth League, in its earlier years, was characterized by phenomenal growth and extraordinary enthusiasm. It could not be expected that these conditions would be maintained always, and we are not surprised that they have not continued. The Sunday-school was an evolution, and required more than a century to bring it to its present efficiency and strength. So, the young people's movement will require time to work out the best form of organic life and the largest usefulness.

Why the Epworth League has not been a greater success in the Virginia Conference we do not undertake to show. Certainly it cannot be because we believe that the Epworth League is based on unsound principles. Surely it is not because we do not feel the need of a young people's movement. There is need of some organization to reach our young people, and make useful this great, but as yet, to a large extent, unused factor in our Church.

We present the following resolutions:

First. That the Epworth League Board will gladly co-operate with any of our pastors or laymen in the organization of senior and junior Epworth Leagues, and that we hold ourselves ready to encourage in any way we can any of the Epworth Leagues whenever called upon to do so.

Second. That we recommend the use of the splendid missionary literature published by the General Epworth League Board, and that we recommend to our young people the Epworth Era, the general organ of the Epworth League.

FRANK L. WELLS, Chairman.

Sunday-School Board.

The time has come that the Church is more fully recognizing the fact that the children must be saved in early life, and not be allowed to grow into hardened sinners before an attempt to direct their minds and hearts into spiritual channels.

We suggest to the preachers and to the laymen that they read Bishop Atkin's book, "The Kingdom in the Cradle." The Church is to be congratulated that so many of her cultured men and women count it an honor to teach in the Sunday-school.

We offer the following resolutions:

(1) The importance of organizing adult Bible classes.

(2) That each Sunday school is earnestly requested to observe Children's Day.

(3) That we request those in authority to set apart one service of the District Conference for the consideration of Sunday-school matters.

(4) That we urge our pastors, as far as possible, to give their presence and co-operation to the Sunday-schools within the bounds of their charges.

(5) That our Sunday-schools buy their literature of Rev. J. S. Hunter, our Conference Colporter.

(6) That our chairman be requested to visit, as far as practicable, the needy Sunday-schools, and to render such service as may be in his power.

Examined and found correct:

J. W. GRANDY,

G. J. HUNT,

*Auditing Committee.Temperance.

The steady and powerful growth of the temperance reformation continues with unabated vigor. The popular designation of this divinely inspired movement as a tidal wave is untrue, and hence misleading, for tidal waves recede, but growth abides. The movements of the kingdom of God never recede, they never go backward.

What we have already achieved in the relentless fight against the saloon, the enemy of humanity and the foe of all righteousness, is but a stepping-stone to better things. We do not even consider any compromise whatever, but most solemnly declare that the liquor traffic in all its forms—saloon, distillery, dispensary, social club, or under any other guise—must be banished from our land. Until this is done the victory will not be won.

The Church calls upon her members everywhere to rise up and destroy, by their influence and their votes, this great enemy.

The grateful news of victories from all parts of the United States comes to us. But we are especially pleased at the triumph in our own State. Stringent laws have been enacted and over seven hundred saloons have been closed within the last year. Local option elections have been called in Lynchburg, Suffolk and Roanoke, and there is great promise of success. Other cities have the matter under serious consideration, and it is probable that they will soon open the contest. The great goal, however, to which we are rapidly approaching is State-wide prohibition, and it is our earnest hope that the time is not far distant when the right of citizens to vote on this question will be given them by the Legislature. We believe that in order to make more effective the laws against the liquor traffic, Congress should protect the rights of the State to control the shipments of liquor after they come into her territory. To this end, we urge the Senators and Congressmen from Virginia to support some measure similar to the Littlefield-Carmack interstate liquor bill.

In the light of these statements,

Resolved, 1. That we quote with hearty endorsement the utterance of our General Conference, that we are distinctively a prohibition Church, and while we are not allied to any political party, we nevertheless are pledged to the utter destruction of the beverage liquor traffic, and with this in view, we urge our preachers to preach special sermons on temperance in general and on the abolition of the liquor traffic in particular, and that we continue by the means in our power to educate and agitate until the public conscience shall be so aroused that it will annihilate the saloon, and Virginia take her place in the column of States that have banished the entire liquor traffic.

Resolved, 2. That we commend the sane and effective methods of the Anti-Saloon League, and congratulate it upon its success, and again tender to it our moral and financial support, and offer our pulpits, at stated times, for the presentation of their work.

Resolved, 3. That we call special attention of our people to the dispensary as a hidden snare of the most dangerous kind, and recall the law of our Church which prohibits her members from voluntarily accepting an appointment or election as a dispenser or officer, and also prohibits them from renting property for a dispensary.

Resolved, 4. That we recommend the use of unfermented wine for the communion service.

W. ASBURY CHRISTIAN, Secretary.

JAMES CANNON, JR., Chairman.

Bible Cause.

The Bible, with its richness of revelation and promise, has been our possession for centuries. It has been a blessing to the world, uplifting, civilizing and spiritualizing the peoples. We rejoice in it as a great gift from God, since we have received it through inspired men: for "holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." It has been, and still is, a mighty force, helping in the pulling down of the strongholds of evil; in opening the way for the missionary preachers and workers, and in the building of churches; in the conviction and conversion of sinners, both in our homeland, and in the "regions beyond." It has carried love, joy, hope and peace to the hearts and minds of men everywhere.

It has been well said that "Bible distribution, with persuasion to read the Book, is the beginning, and middle, and end, and perpetual occupation of all sorts of missions—an essential feature of purely evangelistic effort everywhere."

The great distributing agency for our own land and for a large number of foreign lands, inhabited by those who know not the truth, is the American Bible Society. Organized May 8, 1816, for ninety-two years this Society has been carrying on its work with varying success, but always aggressively and wisely.

In the foreign fields there are twelve agencies of the American Bible Society actively distributing the word of God in many languages. The work of the Bible Society is often the forerunner and always the handmaid of the missionaries sent into the heathen world by the various mission boards of the Protestant churches of America. We cannot overestimate the good done by the American Bible Society in lands where the great mass of the people are "sitting in darkness and in the shadow of death."

In our own homeland we are face to face with a problem that is becoming more and more serious. Into our ports pour hundreds of thousands of foreigners, every year, from all parts of the old world. These immigrants, for the most part, come to us without a knowledge of the word of God, and a vast number of them are atheists, skeptics, or indifferent to the demands of religion. In some of our States nearly one-half of the inhabitants are foreigners. While many of these have become useful citizens, there are still many without the Bible. The American Bible Society is putting forth its best endeavor to supply these foreigners with the word of God.

We of Virginia are deeply interested in the work closer to us. Our State is a part of the South Atlantic Agency, of which the Rev. M. B. Porter is the secretary. This agency comprises Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, a territory 1,200 miles long and 300 miles wide. This region contains thousands of sturdy laborers in lumber and mining camps. Thousands of sailors come to our ports every year. It is estimated that 10,000 immigrants come into this district annually. This number will probably be increased in the future. There is great need of putting the Bible into the hands of these thousands.

During the past year the South Atlantic Agency has distributed 30,000 volumes through its fifteen colporters, and it is the expectation of the secretary that the number of volumes distributed will be doubled during the coming year. As a result of this distribution of Bibles souls have been saved, and, in many ways, the cause of our Master has been advanced.

Our own State receives due attention. There are several colporters at work within our borders, and others will be placed in the field as soon as possible.

It is with pleasure we have learned of the growing interest in Bible study among the students in the colleges and universities of our country. There were 335 institutions in 1900 that had special Bible classes; in 1908 this number was increased to 619. The enrollment in these classes was 11,782 in 1900, while last year it was 48,882.

We are glad to know that the pupils of Randolph-Macon Institute are required to study the Bible, and that the Randolph-Macon Woman's College requires a course of study in the Bible for the baccalaureate degrees. We should be gratified if the students of Randolph-Macon College, and of the Randolph-Macon Academies were required to pursue a regular course of study in the Bible. Blackstone Female Institute has had a regular course of study in the Bible for fourteen years.

We present the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1 That we note with great pleasure the growing interest in the distribution of the Bible among the thousands now destitute of it, and we pledge our hearty co-operation with the American Bible Society in its noble work.

Resolved, 2. That we commend the efforts that are being put forth by the American Bible Society to raise, independently of the regular funds, $500,000 by December 31, 1908, to meet the condition upon which Mrs. Russell Sage will donate to the Society $500,000, and we urge our people to co-operate with the Society in securing the amount needed.

Resolved, 3. That we request the presiding elders to appoint, as far as practicable, the members of the Bible Board to represent the Bible cause at the District Conferences, and that provision be made for the proper presentation of this cause.

XI

SESSIONS OF THE VIRGINIA ANNUAL CONFERENCE.

Six Conferences were held in Virginia before the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States was organized, and five of them were held within the territory of the Virginia Annual Conference. But they were not, strictly speaking, Virginia Annual Conferences. Hence, these Conferences do not appear among the sessions enumerated below. The Annual Conferences proper number their sessions, respectively, from their first meeting after the organization of the Methodist Episcopal Church as an independent ecclesiastical body, December, 1784. In conformity with this rule the sessions of the Virginia Annual Conference are numbered from the meeting held at Mason's, Brunswick county, Va., May, 1785. Since then sessions thereof have been held in regular succession, year after year, within the geographical limits assigned it by the General Conference of 1796, except as to the years 1791 and 1841, when changes in the time of the year for the meeting of the Conference made it necessary to hold two sessions in each of these calendar years, making one hundred and five sessions in one hundred and three years.

The Highest Standard of Excellence in the manufacture of Organs, is represented by the famous line of

Mason & Hamlin Organs

The name of Mason & Hamlin on the case of an Organ; either a great pipe instrument, a Church or Sunday-School reed, or a small portable organ, means that the best value is given in return for the price asked—the best in design, workmanship and all those qualities essential to a reliable organ.

The Mason & Hamlin Pianos are the highest price pianos in the world, the same price to everybody everywhere, the world's standard. To possess a Mason & Hamlin Piano or Organ is to have that which is not only of value to-day, but which in years to come will be of more value than even now.

Churches and Sunday-Schools are invited to write us for full descriptions, prices and terms.

We call attention to our line of the Famous Chicago Cottage Organs, also the most reliable line of Pianos on the market

Conover—Cable—Kingsbury
Wellington—DeKoven—Mecklenburg

Correspondence solicited and prompt, careful attention assured.
